CHA/PLAIN/CY:

What is it?

CHA It tries to speak to the underlying spiritual rhythm of life...a rhythm that ties together our intellectual, physical, psychological and social development that is necessary for maturation of the whole person.

Flight: therefore of the spiritual and transcendental realities; or the more earthy reality (the woodworkers plane) for shaping, cleaning up the rough edges or giving definition to the whole self — bringing out the rich grain at the heart of all of us...or Plain - level - clear - simple - wide open to reality.

C The ultimate purpose of learning is seeing. Our service is one that broadens perception and yet brings it into proper focus.

All the chaplains, no matter what their religion, see the spiritual or God dimension as an essential part to developing the whole person — CHAPLAIN - SEE....
